INTRODUCTION

This booklet provides a ready reference for information on the background and history of the NASA Honor Awards at Glenn. It is intended to be updated annually. Included in the booklet is a description of the program and the various types of awards, an explanation of nominating procedures, and a listing of past Glenn nominees and recipients.

NASA HONOR AWARDS BACKGROUND

1. PURPOSE

The NASA Honor Awards are the most prestigious awards granted by NASA and are used to bestow singular honor as official recognition of achievement. It is intended that this agency-level recognition encourage similar outstanding achievements from across the entire spectrum of the NASA workforce. Except for occasions warranting immediate recognition, recipients of these top NASA awards are selected annually. Nominations are reviewed by the NASA Incentive Awards Board and approved by the NASA Administrator.

2. DESCRIPTION

The NASA Honor Awards include a gold medal, a gold lapel emblem, a ribbon rosette, and a framed certificate bearing the official seal of NASA and signed by the NASA Administrator.

3. NASA MEDALS AND CRITERIA

- a. A Distinguished Service Medal is awarded to any person in the Federal service who, by distinguished service, ability, or courage, has personally made a contribution representing substantial progress to the NASA mission in the interests of the United States. The contribution must be so extraordinary that other forms of recognition by NASA would be inadequate. This is the highest honor that NASA confers.
- b. A Distinguished Public Service Medal is awarded to any individual who is not an employee of the Federal Government or was not a Government employee during the period in which the service was performed. The award is granted only to individuals whose distinguished accomplishments contributed substantially to the NASA mission. The contribution must be so extraordinary that other forms of recognition by NASA would be inadequate. This is the highest honor that NASA confers to a non-Government individual.
- c. An Outstanding Leadership Medal is awarded for notably outstanding leadership which has had a pronounced effect upon the technical or administrative programs of NASA. The leadership award is given for an act of leadership or for sustained contributions based on an individual's effectiveness as a leader, the productivity of the individual's program, or demonstrated ability to develop the administrative or technical talents of other employees.

- d. An Exceptional Achievement Medal is awarded for significant, specific accomplishment or contribution clearly characterized by a substantial and significant improvement in operations efficiency, service, financial savings, science, or technology which contribute to the mission of NASA.
- e. An Exceptional Service Medal is awarded for significant, sustained performance characterized by unusual initiative or creative ability that clearly demonstrates substantial improvements or contributions in engineering, aeronautics, space flight, administration, support, or space-related endeavors which contribute to the mission of NASA.
- f. An Exceptional Scientific Achievement Medal is awarded to NASA employees for unusually significant scientific contributions toward achievement the NASA mission. This award may be given for individual efforts which have resulted in a contribution of fundamental importance in this field or have significantly enhanced understanding of this field.
 - 1. Accomplishments are far above others in quality or excellence, rare, outstanding, clearly superior achievement.
 - 2. This is a prestigious scientific award for specific/ concrete scientific achievement(s).
 - 3. More credit will be given for recent contribution(s) (excepting unusual circumstances when a contribution was overlooked at the time it occurred).
- g. An Exceptional Engineering Achievement Medal is awarded for unusually significant engineering contributions toward achievement of the NASA mission. This award may be given for individual efforts or application of engineering principles/methods which have resulted in a contribution of fundamental importance in this field or have significantly enhanced understanding of this field.
 - 1. Accomplishments are far above others in quality or excellence, rare, outstanding, clearly superior achievement.
 - 2. This is a prestigious engineering award for specific/ concrete engineering achievement(s).
 - 3. More credit will be given for recent contribution(s) (excepting unusual circumstances when a contribution was overlooked at the time it occurred).
- h. An Equal Employment Opportunity Medal is awarded to NASA employees for outstanding achievement and material contribution to the goals of NASA's Equal Employment Opportunity programs either within the Government or within community organizations or groups.
 - 1. Accomplishments are clearly superior in quality, scope, and impact.

2. Accomplishments are explicit, demonstrate results, perceived as outstanding or significant by peers and impacted target groups.
3. More credit will be given for recent contribution(s) (excepting unusual circumstances when a contribution was overlooked at the time it occurred.)
 - i. An Exceptional Bravery Medal is awarded for exemplary and courageous handling of an emergency by an individual who, independent of personal danger, has acted to prevent the loss of human life or Government property.
 - j. A Public Service Medal is awarded to any United States citizen who is not an employee of the Federal Government or was not an employee during the period in which the service was performed. This award is given for exceptional contributions to the mission of NASA.
 - k. A Space Flight Medal is awarded to recognize individual participation in a Space Transportation System (STS) flight mission to STS flight crew members (civil and military astronauts, mission specialists, payload specialists, civilians). The medal is granted for participation in initial flight. The NASA Space Flight Cluster is awarded for subsequent flight(s).
- l. A Exceptional Technology Achievement Medal is awarded to both Government and non-Government individuals for technology contributions achieved in one of the following:
 - Early technology development significantly contributing to the NASA mission.
 - Exemplary collaborative effort in achieving significant technology transfer.
 - Exceptional utilization of a NASA-developed technology resulting in a significant commercial application.
- m. A Exceptional Administrative Achievement Medal is awarded to any person in the Federal service (NASA Classification 500 Group clerical/assistant and related support positions only) for a significant, specific accomplishment or contribution characterized by unusual initiative or creativity that clearly demonstrates a substantial improvement in administrative support contributing to the mission of NASA, such as:
 - Exceptional initiative in carrying out office/program support activities that resulted in improved processes and operations.
 - Development and improvement of administrative support methods and processes that resulted in substantial benefit to the office or program.
 - Notable competence and resourcefulness in accomplishing and improving office/program processes and operations.

4. NASA CERTIFICATES

The following Honor Awards consist of a framed certificate bearing the official NASA seal and signed by the NASA Administrator:

- a. A Group Achievement Award is given in recognition of outstanding accomplishment which has been made through the coordination of many individual efforts and which has contributed substantially to the accomplishment of the NASA mission. This award may be used to recognize the accomplishments of either a total Government employee group or as a team award to a group comprised of both Government and non-Government personnel.
 1. Groups should be identified and nominated at the lowest level possible to assure recognition of true working teams, homogenous performance, etc.
 2. Individuals who have made significant, noteworthy contributions should be included, and those whose contributions or associations are brief, peripheral, or limited should not be included.
 3. Groups should have participated in programs or projects that were particularly significant to NASA, not routine events.
- b. A Public Service Group Achievement Award is given to a group of nongovernment employees in recognition of an outstanding accomplishment which has contributed substantially to the mission of NASA.
 1. Groups should be identified and nominated at the lowest level possible to assure recognition of true working teams, homogenous performance, etc.
 2. Individuals who have made significant, noteworthy contributions should be included, and those whose contributions or associations are brief, peripheral, or limited should not be included.
 3. Groups should have participated in programs or projects that were particularly significant to NASA, not routine events.
- c. A Certificate of Appreciation is awarded in recognition of an outstanding accomplishment which has contributed substantially to the mission of NASA.

5. PROCEDURES

- a. A request for nominations is sent to Directorate and Center Staff offices in August each year by the Incentive Awards Program Administrator. All nominations are to be submitted on NASA Form 1644. Nominations are due to the Incentive Awards Program Administrator approximately four weeks after the date of the request.

- b. Nominations must be made in writing by Directorate or Center Staff Office Heads and should be submitted in priority order. Nominations from across the Center are compiled by the Incentive Awards Program Administrator for review by the Glenn Human Resources Panel. The panel recommends nominations to the Center Director, who decides which nominations will be forwarded to Headquarters.
- c. The Distinguished Service Medal is presented at a special ceremony normally held in March of each year at NASA Headquarters. Transportation to Washington for this award is the responsibility of the functional organization.
- d. NASA Honor Awards, except for the Distinguished Service Medal, are presented locally at the Center Annual Honor Awards Ceremony, normally held in March. The NASA Administrator or his designee makes the presentations.
